A Tribute

DR. G. FRED McNALLY, M.A., LL.D.
1878 - 1965

On December 4, 1965, Dr. G. Fred McNally passed away. He was a great Canadian, and all of us should be proud that this school bears his name.

He lived a full life. As an educator, he was an outstanding teacher; then school inspector, normal school principal, curriculum developer, Deputy Minister of Education, and university chancellor. In each position, he contributed his best, in service to others.

Dr. McNally gave full support to his church. A Baptist, he was at different times president of the Baptist Union of Western Canada and president of the Baptist Federation of Canada. He also founded the Knights of the Cross, a Bible class for young boys.

In every way, it can be said that Dr. McNally loved life. He was devoted to his family and was himself loved and respected by all who knew him.

All of us in McNally Composite High School are grateful that he was able to participate in the official opening of the school. He felt that a good motto had been selected for the school and hoped that all who passed through its doors would give "nothing but their best".

He also stressed that in this school we should practice friendliness and tolerance in setting the climate in which good learning could take place.

We shall miss him but always remember him.

Principal's Message

McNally Composite High School is two years old! From a pile of cold brick and mortar in 1964, a warm, alive, forward-looking educational institution has grown.

It must be recognized that most things which tend to make a school highly respected have to be worked for. In the past two years this school has established a good reputation in the city for its enthusiastic, responsible students, and for its hard-working staff.

Much has been done, yet our task remains incomplete. McNally students are developing strength of school spirit, but it is not strong enough. Worthwhile clubs have been formed, but they need developing. Our students' union has gained experience, but lacks the independence and initiative it should have. We have sown the seeds, the seedlings have germinated—but if they are to grow they will need liberal quantities of enthusiasm and work by responsible students and staff advisors.

I am certain that all McNally students will continue to move ahead in constructive, positive ways, as each takes his or her place in life. I am proud of the students and staff of this school, and grateful for the opportunity to serve as principal.

The entire staff joins me in wishing each of you every success. May all the winds that blow, bring you good fortune.

Leonard J. D. Garrett

Editorial

There is little expected of a child of two years; there is a great deal expected of a school of the same age. The common area of the two is that they are both in their formative years, and we here at McNally are indeed in our formative years, the years which determine the path that our school will follow. It is our duty to guide the school along the best of the many paths available, a path that will lead us to knowledge and maturity. To guide McNally well we must guide ourselves, for McNally is not a building, nor a place beside the river, but it is the student body and the teaching staff who contribute to its growth. Thus McNally is what we put into it.

In our first two years at McNally we can see a trend developing, and that trend is along the correct path, the development of McNally into a school of the finest calibre—a school of which we are proud.

Let us then devote every effort to ensure that this trend continues. Let us not be complacent about our school, but vitally concerned with its progress; for just as the young child learns to stand alone, so will our school, and McNally will stand tall and straight.

VALEDICTORY

Tonight, we are completing a highly significant phase in our lives, for tonight we are symbolically ending our life at school. We are gathered here for three reasons: first, to look back on the twelve years of our school life before leaving it; second, to thank and bid goodbye to all those who have guided us through part of these twelve years of learning, and finally, to look ahead, to the future.

When we look back on those twelve years of our lives spent in school, we can, with very little difficulty, find in our memories, experiences and incidents which cause us to laugh, or tremble, or, most important of all, to think. Through these experiences, we all developed different attitudes, and different concepts of school. To some of us, school meant a rather unpleasant place where we were forced to learn impossible formulas and unuseable facts. To others, it was mainly a place to meet people and find new friends. To some, however, school became a breeding place of intelligent thought where by reading, discussing, and arguing, they could come in contact with and gradually absorb all types of knowledge, eventually using it to improve both their lives and the lives of those around them. Actually, as we look back, we see school as all these things, and we probably all feel a tinge of remorse at the prospect of leaving our school days behind.

For the last twelve years we have been guided, led, and sometimes pushed into a state of semi-knowledge by our teachers and by our parents. For the patience and tolerance of our teachers, and for the guidance of our parents, we the class of 1966 express our thanks. The late Dr. McNally once said that "you can not learn if you are in active opposition to the teacher" and often expressed his love for the "spirit of cooperation" in working with others. Perhaps this "spirit of cooperation" that we have learned, the willingness to go more than half way in dealing with others, will be more important to us in our future than much of the knowledge we gained at school.

I did say "our future", for the future is indeed ours, and, as we leave this, the last of our school years, it is fitting and necessary that we look to our future. To some of us, this future means more years of study in university or vocational schools, to others it is the rather awesome prospect of the business world. But, however much our futures may differ, the most important aspect in all of our futures will be our ability to retain our personal sense of values and individuality while striving to attain our separate goals, in co-operation with others. Certainly, our twelve years of school life have made inestimable contributions to the formation of these values, and to the ideas of individuality and co-operation.

For this, the Graduation Class of 1966 expresses its gratitude, and bids farewell.

CLASS HISTORY

Five hundred ninety-seven days have passed since we entered the new McNally Composite High School. Destined to be members of th first graduating class, we were confronted with problems. We had no examples to follow but we have laid the groundwork on which others can build. In retrospect, let us view the road that we have travelled.

McNally became the "melting pot" for two hundred grade eleven students imported from various schools. Because we were all new, Frosh days were not held. However, this year we avenged ourselves and our senority enabled us to dispose of the Frosh as we saw fit.

Excellent and unusual platform speeches in our first election whetted our appetites for a second election held last spring. The year between these two elections was exciting and fun.

Sportswise, football, basketball, volleyball, badminton and track occupied our leisure time. We gained our first honours by winning the girls' Junior Basketball Championship. At all the events Mr. Shillington cheered us on. McNally would not have been the same without him.

Muki Luki days were perhaps the most exciting of our special days. Teachers and students alike braved the elements to test their abilities. However, fire bells set off by pranksters in below zero weather were not part of the festivities and were not appreciated.

We will also remember with nostalgia: Pancake day, career day, cut-off day, clash day and award days. These events brightened our school life.

Our memories are warmed by spirited pep rallies (nice leg show, boys!) which introduced the interschool players and built up school spirit. Sock hops, as well, are worth remembering for their enjoyment and the success of their fund drives.

For such a young school, our Fine Arts Department has also done well in contributing successful musical and dramatic productions. The Imaginary Invalid, our first year play, provided comedy; while a more serious theme followed in A Child Was Born. Our school orchestra, folk singers and glee club are evidence of our musical success.

Of course we can not forget Dr. McNally, for whom our school is named. His special visit to the students as well as his contribution of books leaves us with a debt of gratitude.

For us, the Class of '66, these two years at McNally have been stepping stones in our lives. The knowledge and experience that we have gained, has prepared us to meet life's challenge. Now to friends we say goodbye, but our memories will remain.

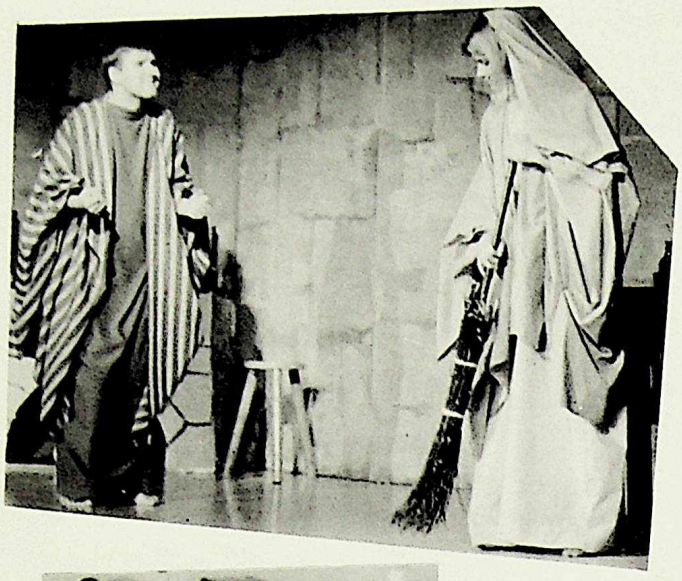
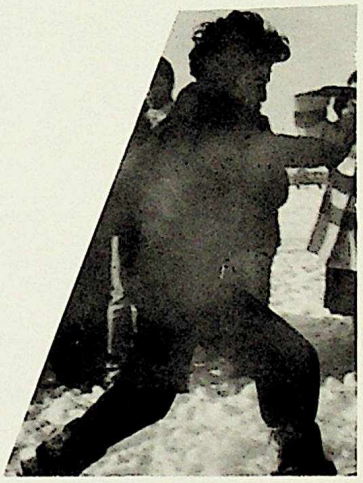
PROVINCIAL I.O.D.E. AWARD

1966 CREATIVE WRITING COMPETITION FOR ALBERTA

GAIL MADLEY, Grade XI

Title of Her Essay—"Life of Dr. G. Fred McNally"





ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We wish to thank the following for their immeasurable contributions to the first Trend:

The Students' Union, for their financial and moral support.

Mrs. Webber, our staff advisor.

The Photography Club, and especially Mr. Pankhurst, staff advisor.

Mr. Shillington and his staff for their toleration of the mess at the back of room 209.

The teachers who allowed the yearbook staff to skip so many classes.

You, the students, who made it all possible.

A special thanks is due to Corona Studios in Edmonton for the use of their studios and equipment.

Jack Keaschuk, Heather Wheeler and Wanda Kupinski for their tiger cartoons.

the Bay

Since the granting of the Hudson's Bay Company's charter in 1670, traders, seamen and adventurers of the Company helped to shape the history of Canada. Since the establishment of the Bay's first department stores — Winnipeg in 1881 and Edmonton in 1890 — the Bay has progressed with the country. Now, as in the past, the Bay continues to serve Canadians with foresight and integrity. Your satisfaction is assured when you shop at the Bay.

HEARD IN THE CLASSROOM

Miss Gonzales—"I don't want to influence you in any way, but—"

Miss Jenkins — "Typewriters quiet." "I hear typewriters!"

Mrs. Sunohara— . . . "and little things like this." "You should be doing homework every night!"

Miss McKinley—"Take out a clean sheet please." "Eureka!"

Mrs. Brand—"You twits."

Mr. Crapo—"Fabulous!"

Miss Buckles—"That's good for an essay" —"Stretch the vowel sound."

Mr. Lambert—"—just to see if you were following me."

Mr. Randhowa—"Isn't it?"

Mrs. Blacker—"Now Danny, I think you're being just a little bit silly."

TEACHERS' SPECIAL BEQUESTS

Miss Irene Buckles' pink beads for an abacus for her math classes.

Dr. Dent's wavy white wig to Yardley Jones of the Journal.

Mr. Garrett's special smile to all new students.

Mr. Thorson's colorful array of ties for McNally's "Special Days".

Freddy, Joan Swanland's white mouse, to the Students' union as a mascot.

The office staff's literary gem, the detention book, to its most frequent contributor, John Elton.

Newton's Second Law by Mr. Spaner in hopes that it will keep his students in motion.

Mr. Law's personal collection of pens to students who never have one in class.

Mrs. Pecover's ear muffs to Bob Holloway's next music teacher.

Mrs. Randall's overdue file to students who still have books out at the end of the year.
